estimate was just sent over

Cool I just needed that for my records my understanding is this was escalated to management pending your guys review of the vehicle logs which should prove demonstrably that it was computer error related to this autopilot trial that made my car freak out and leap into a curb

Ok thanks. I'll be in touch with Pasadena. Is this tesla tesla? Or is this the service center? Do you know approximately when you will be able to send me the car logs / camera footage of the impact event? Or is this something that they can do in Pasadena / remotely

JR

Tesla

Hello Jonathan, this is the service center there is no way to see when that data will be sent to you since it is a different department. Also Pasadena collision center is third party Tesla approved collision center they will not have access to any of your data.

center

I thought it was at a collision center

Where is it now?

Tesla

The vehicle is at the service center in Burbank

Ok well will this issue of the service centeri vs collision center will the collision center be covered by you guys

Given this damage resulted from the malfunction of the autopilot

Tesla

This has been escalated to management. We will respond during normal business hours
